Chancellor Simpson Heads Association

At its forty-fifth annual meeting in Roanoke, Feb. 13-14, the Association of Virginia Colleges named Chancellor Simpson president for the coming year.

Dean Marguerite Roberts of Westhampton College in Richmond was elected vice-president. Dean W. Alexander Mabry of Randolph-Macon College in Ashland was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The Association of Virginia Colleges is an organization of colleges that meet annually to discuss matters of higher education in Virginia.

Nancy Moncure and Rose Bennett were elected presidents of Student Government and Honor Council respectively Tuesday, February 24 by the vote of the student body. They will be installed in their new positions April 8.

Nancy, an art major from Alexandria, hopes to see more interest shown by the student body in Student Government affairs next year. She hopes by expanding the committee work of SGA to be able to bring more students into active participation.

As Honor council president Rose, too, hopes to enlarge the Honor Council's scope of membership. In addition, she would like to see a clarification of the honor code for the faculty and a more thorough training program for the Honor Code counselors.

Experienced in student government affairs, Nancy is presently the junior class SGA representative. Last summer she was MWC's delegate to the Tenth Annual National Student Association Congress. She has also served as chairman of the Handbook Research Committee, chairman of the Handbook training for new students, chairman of the Christmas Door Decorations Contest of SGA.

Nancy is also a member of the Battlefield art staff, co-art editor of the Epaulet, vice-president of the Art Club, member of Alpha Phi Sigma, a dean's list student and was vice-president of Mason dormitory last year.

An English major from Richmond, Rose, as president of her sophomore class, served on Honor Council last year. She was also vice-president of her freshman class and is now president of Willard dorm and a member of the Bullet staff.

Other candidates for the office of student government president were Roberta Garverick and Betsy Hopkins. Carol Faison ran against Rose for Honor Council president.

College Announces '59 Summer Session Variety of Courses

Dean Edward Alvey, Jr. has announced the completion of plans for the 1959 Summer Session of Mary Washington College. The eight week session will begin on Monday, June 15 and conclude on Friday, August 7.

A variety of academic courses in English, music, psychology, and chemistry will be offered. No courses will be offered in biology due to the necessity of moving equipment to the science building.

The eight week session will be operated on a five day week. All classes will be held in the morning. A special five week program has been planned for teachers who wish to renew their teaching certificates.

The catalog, outlining courses and announcing the instructors, has gone to press. Copies will be available for distribution in early March to all students who are interested in this program.

Dean Alvey suggests that students seriously consider the advantages that may be gained from attending summer school. "The summer session," he stated, "offers an excellent opportunity to students who wish to learn and shorten the time to complete their degree."

The Why of "Y"

With the election of the president of Honor Council and SGA an accomplished fact, most students begin to consider the possible candidates for ICA, RA, and YWCA, three other absolute offices on campus.

Before any election it might be well to take stock and consider the relative importance of the organization in question and exactly what role the organization plays or should play on campus.

Recreation Association and Inter-Club Association are two groups which are representative of all students. Whether or not students support RA or Inter-Club is another subject; basically these two groups exist only to aid students in a realm exclusive of the academic.

YWCA, however, does not represent the whole student body although it claims to extend its membership to all. There are large segments of the student body who give no support to "Y" at all because of personal reasons. These students cannot be accused of lacking interest in affairs on campus, socially or academically. They simply do not feel that YWCA should represent them, nominally or realistically.

This brings us to the subject of why YWCA is an ex-officio member of SGA and why it is considered a major, absolute organization at MWC. Certainly "Y" represents many students, but so does Canterbury, Wesley, and Hillel. "Y" has more members than any one of the religious groups but it is no more representative of the whole student body than any one of them.

Inter-faith Council was set up to represent every faith on campus; it does not prefer one faith over another, and whether or not "Y" makes the same claim, its very title denotes a separation of faiths. Inter-faith Council has been handicapped from its birth. It is not considered a major organization; it receives no support from the school in order to operate; such activities as Religious Emphasis Week are sponsored not by Inter-faith but by "Y."

YWCA, although it does not represent as many as Inter-faith potentially could, is considered a major organization; its officers are elected by the student body; it receives 800 dollars a year from the College to operate. YWCA has some influence in appointing counsellors in the freshman dormitories, although by what real right they do is a moot question.

Once upon a time YWCA did represent a very great percentage of this school. However, those days are perhaps gone forever. Therefore, Inter-faith Council should now take precedence over YWCA in all interdenominational activities on campus.

Some serious thinking should be done by the student body in regard to the importance of the Inter-faith Council and "Y". Clearly, there is only one of the two which can claim to be representative of the campus. A new definition of the roles of each organization is in order, and Student Government and the student body should make some concrete plans for a just solution.

Is Honor Working?

It is rather ironic that while the students have made such a success of MW's honor system, many members of the faculty have failed to realize exactly what it means. It is far more than a pledge at the conclusion of a test paper, and still this seems to be the limit to which some professors include it in their teaching.

It is very distressing for a student when a professor insists on giving her a different make-up test, refuses to allow her to take old test papers back to her room to study while preparing for an exam, or will not accept her word concerning excused absences. If the professor cannot trust the student in the fullest sense of the word, the honor system at Mary Washington is not the success it should be.

VIEWS FROM THE HILL

Girl Appraise Work of "Y"

Do you believe that YWCA and Inter-faith Council are fulfilling their proper roles on campus?

It is true that many of our activities here at Mary Washington are run under the auspices of the YWCA. To set up individual organizations under which these activities might function, would be a very difficult task, and would probably result in some degree of disorganization. The assigning of big and little sisters and the work of the various committees is accomplished easily and successfully by the "Y". The influence of the YWCA on campus life and activities is an inspirational one. I do not believe there is, then, a question of "right" or "wrong." Rather it is how much good is brought about by the YWCA's "influence." The answer—plenty.

I do feel, however, that the campus religious life leaves much to be desired. Almost every religious denomination is represented on our campus. Should the religious activities not extend their meaning, their purpose to all faiths here represented? I think so. Inter Faith Council and "Y", working together, could effect such a desired end through inter-denominational (See Many, page 6)

By MARIANNE CARRANO
President of Inter-faith Council

Recently there seems to have been much interested discussion concerning the relative merits of Inter-faith Council and the Young Women's Christian Association.

"Y" claims to be a group representative of all faiths. This claim is supported in the face of the name of Y. W. C. A. by their assumption that since they have invited members of every religious group to participate they are therefore representative of all religious groups on the campus which neither support nor participate in "Y" activities.

"Y" supports its claim also by pointing out that because membership in "Y" is open to each individual on campus, the organization therefore is open to all religious groups; Christian or non-Christian. The fact remains that there are on the campus several religious groups whose members are not members nor supporters of "Y".

Representative Group

On the other hand, Inter-faith is a representative group. Every religious organization is represented on Inter-faith Council. Therefore it seems evident that many of the duties and activities of "Y" should be in the hands of Inter-faith. An example of this was "Religious Leaders Night" which was sponsored by Inter-faith this year in place of the traditional "Meet Your Minister Night" which in previous years was sponsored by "Y." What about Religious Emphasis Week?

Would it not be more in accord with the purposes behind R.E. Week for Inter-faith to sponsor it for "Y"? Is it not ridiculous for "Y" to sponsor Jewish and Catholic speakers on the campus in view first of the obvious contradiction between Judaism and a Young Women's Christian Association and second, in the face of the open lack of membership and support in "Y" of Catholic Students? Considering the limited scope of "Y" membership, if M.W.C. is ever to have a chapel, would it not be most properly placed under the auspices of Inter-faith?

Another point under much discussion (See Carrano, page 6)

By LAURA BAKER
President of YWCA

The purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association is stated clearly in Article II of the constitution:

We, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of Mary Washington College, unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task, we seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him.

At the time of joining the "Y", each girl is asked to sign this pledge and to carry its meaning in her thoughts as she goes through her college work.

There are some girls who feel that they cannot accept the purpose of the YWCA as stated above. For these students, an associate membership is possible, whereby they may participate in the activities of "Y" without accepting the full purpose.

Activities Planned

The activities planned and sponsored by the YWCA are many and varied. Perhaps the most outstanding is that of the Big-Little Sister orientation program which is carried out with all the incoming freshmen. The "Y" assumes the responsibility of inaugurating these students into some of the aspects of college life, and provides a "Big Sister" to guide and help the girls with any questions or problems they may have.

In addition, the "Y" joins with Student Government to elect one counselor in each freshman dorm who is responsible for attending all "Y" Cabinet meetings and for bringing back information to her dorm regarding "Y" sponsored activities.

Vesper programs for all the dorms are planned and carried through by dorm elected chairmen. In addition, campus-wide vespers are given throughout the year at special times. Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. The most important function promoted by the "Y" for student body participation is Religious Emphasis Week.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I would like to bring to the attention of students the stray dogs that are now roaming our campus day and night. These dogs quite often go in packs and are becoming a nuisance, very unsightly at times and in some instances become vicious and destructive.

It is a known fact that dogs have been lured or coaxed on the campus by a student or students. I am not implying that all stray dogs on campus have been brought on campus by a student as some have come on their own accord, some may have been brought by other people who wish to get rid of a dog and believe that the dog will be cared for or adopted by someone in the city. If the students will refrain from petting and feeding these dogs I feel sure that the dogs would have no reason to hang around the campus and would therefore leave.

The police and game wardens are called on to get rid of these dogs whenever they become a nuisance, unsightly or vicious and they are picked up and carried to the city dog pound and kept for five days. If no one calls for or claims the dog it is then destroyed and some little boy or girl may be deprived of his or her pet. If the dog is claimed by the owner or claimant, he is required to make a payment in order to get the dog out.

We, of the Police Department, respectfully request that you do not try to lure or coax any animal on campus and that you refrain from petting or feeding any dog or cat that may be on campus and would appreciate your wholehearted cooperation in the above matter.

M. D. Haynes,

Chief of Campus Police.

In my opinion many of the duties and areas of control of various groups on campus are not divided in the manner which would serve all students to the fullest degree.

I feel that this is especially a problem with the YWCA. It is not that I believe that "Y" has not done a certain amount of good on this campus; rather, it is because I feel, like many other students, that there is in existence at MWC a group which is more truly representative of the student body and which could better direct activities which "Y" now handles with a great deal more active student support.

"Y" is supposed to be a service organization and receives financial support from the College. I emphatically do not believe that students who do not support "Y" or have anything to do with it should have to support it financially from their college fees. Certainly since "Y" members only include 22% of the student body there is no real reason why it should claim to represent all students as an ex-officio member of SGA or should have a voice in appointing counsellors in freshmen dormitories.

Inter-Faith Council at this time is in no position to take over the duties of "Y". There is one simple reason for this: lack of funds. "Y" and not Inter-Faith receives financial support for their activities and yet the latter is more representative of the whole student body and could do more services. Given funds, Inter-Faith could take over many of the functions of "Y", which like R.E. Week should logically be under her sponsorship.

I know, too, from experience that many students who have a real desire to work with "Y" never get the opportunity because it seems to be a closed group and certain religious denominations object to YWCA.

However, conditions at MWC recently been far from static and I believe that "Y" and Inter-Faith will shortly determine new roles for themselves providing students understand the situation and decide what they want themselves.

Barbara Bache, '59

At this time there seems to be a resentment on campus of the "power" of Y. W. C. A. Obviously this must come from non-members. Our college population is approximately 1500. The membership of "Y" is approximately 350. Using these figures, only 22% of the en-

Art Program Will Include Selch Collection, Pro Musica

A special arts program which will include the Selch Collection and Renaissance music is planned from March 12-25, and resuming after the Easter recess from April 1-6 in duPont auditorium.

The Selch collection is composed of ancient and modern musical instruments, aided by a grant from the Smithsonian Institute. The Julius K. Rosenwald collection of Jenkintown, Pa. and the National Gallery of Art loaned the collection eleven original prints and an original water color drawing.

Groups of instruments which date back to Queen Elizabeth's reign will be exhibited. Some of these instruments are the plucked string, keyboard, bowed, and wind instruments. Many of them are now being reproduced and played in concerts, especially on college campuses.

"The Seven Liberal Arts," a 16th century engraving by George Pencz is one of the original prints being exhibited. This print demonstrates music as an art in medieval education. Also included on the

Welfare Worker to Speak on Campus

Miss Constance Votey, Field Representative of the Department of Welfare and Institutions, will be on the Mary Washington campus March 2nd to talk to students interested in job opportunities in the field of social work.

Her visit to MWC was made in cooperation with the College Placement Bureau.

The Department of Welfare and Institutions, which she represents, includes the local welfare departments, training schools for delinquent children, juvenile courts and State prisons.

This large Department of the State government employs more than 3000 people and is constantly in need of college graduates for various types of positions. Opportunities for employment exists in many sections of the state.

Miss Votey will also have information on graduate scholarships in social work which pay up to $1800.00 per year. Undergraduate scholarships up to $650.00 a year are also available for the senior year of study for persons planning to enter the field of social work.

MW Professor Receives Grant For Future Study

CURRENT EVENTS

Macmillan Succeeds In Russian Tour

British Prime Minister Macmillan, on a 10-day reconnaissance visit to explore Soviet thinking, exchanged some of the friendliest words ever heard across the Iron curtain with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The Kremlin leader told his visitor: "We think you want agreement."

The leaders were expressing a community of similar goals on any of the great issues which divide East and West.

Macmillan has gone out of his way to credit Soviet accomplishments and create an atmosphere of good will. In lengthy personal talks with Khrushchev, he has "hit it off" quite well with the Soviet Premier. Khrushchev told his visitor he was right in thinking that the Soviet people and government want peace. Raising his glass in a toast, the Soviet leader praised "mutual understanding and peaceful coexistence."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' doctors now are able to give him somewhat longer and more extensive radiation treatment for his cancer. They have reported that he shows no sign of bad reaction to the radiation.

Paying his fourth visit to the Secretary since Dulles' hospitalization, President Eisenhower discussed international matters with him.

As to whether or not Dulles will resign, most officials feel that the decision should be left to the President after consultation with the Secretary's doctors.

Charles Burton Marshall, a former State Department policy planner, told Congress that with things quiet in the Formosa Strait, the United States should move toward establishing diplomatic relations with Red China. The suggestion met immediate opposition from members of the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee.

The Peking regime is not recognized by the United States. Instead, it stands behind the Nationalist Chinese government of Chiang Kai-shek, based on Formosa.

Marshall said Chinese Communist participation would be essential to any solution of the nuclear weapons problem. He also suggested that the United States "explore to the limit" Khrushchev's proposal for a nuclear-free zone in the Pacific Area.

With the federation of the two Germanys such a red-hot topic, the Communists can be expected to propose a similar deal between Formosa and the Red Chinese mainland. The reported plan: Invite the Nationalists to join a "federated Peoples Government of China." Formosa would keep its "sovereign independence" and Chiang Kai-shek could even stay in power. But all ties with the U. S. would have to be cut.

'Y' Sponsors Drive; WUS Contributions Aid Other Students

The World University Service drive will be opened on March 9th and continue through March 13th with a goal of $2,000 for the MWC campus.

The YWCA, sponsor of the drive, is asking for a contribution of $1.00 per person.

W.U.S. is a world-wide student relief organization. The money collected during the WUS drive will be used to buy books, build dormitories, and aid students in getting an education. One hundred per cent of the money donated is sent out of the country for the benefit of those who would not have the opportunity of getting an education otherwise.

On March 10th a movie, "The Japanese Student," will be shown in Lounge A of Ann Carter Lee at 7:00, to illustrate the purpose of W.U.S.

Carolyn Ralston and Linda Lange are the co-chairmen for the drive. A captain is going to be chosen for each dormitory. There will also be two canvassers for each hall who will collect the donations.

CLOTHESLINE

New Fashions Mean Color For Style-Minded Girls

By NANCY EDMUNDS

The 1959 Spring Season is coming in with a burst of color. From her head to her toes the smart young girl will be arrayed in dazzling shades that are second only to Mother Nature herself.

The hat is becoming more important as well as more versatile. Hats presented this spring may be worn with almost any outfit in your wardrobe. The style seems to tend toward the brushed back brims. Berets and highest pillboxes are most popular. Blues, greens, pinks, yellows, and beige will head the list in the hat color review.

Lipsticks are taking on a new appearance also. They range in color from Revlon's new white base to amber, orange, and the brandy colors, strawberry Frappe, Cherry Frappe, and Peach Frappe.

The suitline is tending toward the slightly fitted jacket decorated with the three button effect. The wide collar and three-quarter sleeves seem to be quite popular also in a suit. These suits may be arrayed with polka-dot blouses or polka-dot collars. This trend toward polka-dots is also apparent in the shoe line.

Shoes are to carry out the color theme also as they appear in blues, greeny-blue prints, chocolate browns, and pastel shades. The strap shoe remains the rage. Stockings will also bear the same colors of your shoes as well as your shoes appearing in the same colors of your stockings, walnut browns, and calf colors. The stocking shades this season are going to be more subtle and shadowy, such as orange poppy, merry-ground yellow and mermaid green.

To obtain a completely dazzling total affect use the same color twice but in different tones in your new outfit and add a third color for brilliance. Such as a greyed green dress and a deeper green hat set off by red shoes.

Dean Will Discuss Tests

Dr. J. A. Davis, dean of the Graduate School of the University of North Carolina, will be at Mary Washington on Wednesday, March 4 to discuss with the Committee of Admissions and Academic Counseling and Guidance the use of the Scholastic Aptitude Test scores.

IN TUNE WITH MWC

"West Side Story,"
Records of Staton
Gain Popularity

By ANN STINCHCOMB

An album that has been gaining popularity on the MWC campus is West Side Story. This album is sung by the original Broadway show cast. Carol Lawrence and Larry Kert star as the two young lovers, Maria and Tony. Chita Rivera and Art Smith along with Mickey Calin are also starred in the cast.

West Side Story is a musical comedy based on a conception of Jerome Robbins of a modern Romeo and Juliet. It has been called "an almost perfect musical: tight, logical, peopled with living characters and fairly bursting with tension." The album definitely proves that the music is superb. Carol Lawrence and Larry Kert have extremely pleasing young voices. Their love duets "Tonight" and "One Hand, One Heart," are romantic and sung very smoothly. Larry Kert's voice is particularly appealing when he sings the hauntingly beautiful "Maria."

This musical album would benefit anyone's collection. There are few original cast recordings of musicals that recapture the spirit and feelings of the original play as successfully as the Columbia recording, West Side Story.

Creating exciting entertainment news throughout the country is a new singer, Dakota Staton. Her album The Late, Late Show, in hi fi shows off her distinctive styling to a tee. Dakota is accompanied by such outstanding soloists as Hank Jones, piano, and Jonah Jones on the trumpet.

This album shows off the misty quality of the singer's voice and also her refreshing jazz style. Dakota Staton has an appeal that is particularly notable for the college student. She sings favorite jazz numbers as well as well-known old standards.

The recording includes "Give Me the Simple Life," "The Late, Late Show," "Broadway," "A Foggy Day," and slow, sentimental favorites like "Summertime," "Misty," "Moonray," "Ain't No Use," "My Funny Valentine," and "Trust in Me." Anyone can hear their favorite song in her varied repertoire.

George Shearing says about Dakota Staton, "Dakota is dynamite! To hear her sing for the first time is to joyously discover one of the finest jazz singers of our day." Wherever she appears, her audiences wholeheartedly agree

Physical Education Grades—Good?

By AILEEN WOODS

Grades are out now—and the student body is divided into several distinct groups according to its reactions. There is the Elated group, the Disappointed group, and the Relieved group.

There is another group too. This one consists of a number of would-be athletes who are currently nursing their bruises, sprains or dislocated joints and wondering what compensation they have received for their exertions.

It was a little discouraging from the beginning. After fighting through the mass riot in Monroe Gym to register, they found that the only completely rearranging their class schedules were archery or gymnastic stunts. This was bad, particularly since they were really interested in learning to play tennis or to improve their swimming ability.

A few members of this group whose talents and interests are more intellectual than physical are especially unhappy about the hours spent weekly on the golf course or in the bowling alleys trying to bring their scores up to an A or B total.

Looking at their grades they are even more unhappy to find that the C or D which represents the sum of their ability to sink a ball into a basket or hit a bulls eye with an arrow, has kept them from attaining a B average or a Dean's List rating.

As they look for some "benefits" received from their efforts in with him. Recordings from this album can be heard locally on the juke box at the Ranch House in Fredericksburg and also at Waller Hall in Quantico. If you haven't yet heard the "jazz kitten" you've missed a special treat. Dakota Staton is one singer that we hope will continue to record. If you like jazz, you'll love hearing Dakota sing!

Physical Education, they notice some firmer muscles, they realize an understanding of the more basic rules and techniques connected with a particular sport, and admit the importance of regular exercise for maintaining good health. But somehow, all this doesn't make them feel any better.

The question bothering most of these people is this: why should their scholastic records be plagued by poor or mediocre physical education accomplishment?

It is inconsistent to average grades based on physical accomplishment together with grades based on intellectual accomplishment. Perhaps this could be remedied by marking those students who are not majoring in physical education "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory" instead of attempting to grade them by the same standards that are used for courses such as English, history or psychology.

SPORTS SCOOP

Sports Clubs Schedule Much Activity, Offer Tournaments, Aquacade, Gymkana

By PATTY MORGAN

Never has this campus been as rocking and rolling as it was Friday night. The Recreation Association sponsored a jazz concert which featured the Jeters from Richmond College.

The boys gave a three hour rendition of all the songs now popular. To add to the entertainment, there was even some dancing on the side lines with men furnished from Richmond College. It is hoped that the Jeters will be able to come again to liven up the campus.

Almost every night you can see girls splashing around in the pool. Upon taking a closer look, you would discover that the girls were members of the Terrapin Club practicing for their Spring Aquacade to be given on March 19, 20, and 21. The club, led by Stevie Conover, consists of twenty-three hard-working girls.

The girls are planning to present a top notch show of skill and precision in the performance of different strokes. Be sure to keep the dates in mind so that plans can be made to attend the show.

Basketball is now well underway with the intermural tournaments. The round robin tournament will end this week and the elimination contest will start next week on March 2. The dorms are finding it a little hard to defeat each other this year.

If you would like to spend a day filled with thrills and laughter, just climb aboard the truck which will be in Chandler Circle on Sunday, March 1. The truck will leave from Chandler on one-half hour intervals starting at 12:00-1:00. Hoof Prints Club will present the Mary Washington Gymkana, which consisted of games on horseback. The girls on their wild horses will participate in such games as musical chairs, a balloon breaking contest, an egg and spoon race at a walk and trot, and a costume relay.

The pie-eating contest, in which the winner will be the first girl to finish her piece of pie and then whistle, is one of the funniest. The sack race and water contest are two other games which result in wet riders and excited horses.

The best treat of all is the fact that there will be no admission charge. Thus, on Sunday, for a day filled with fun and excitement, make an effort to venture out to Oak Hill Stables.

NSA Sponsors European Tours

"How would you like a two-month vacation touring Europe?"

A question like this one directed at almost any MWC girl would evoke a dreamy, stary-eyed response. "But," most would say, "I can't afford it." Now, however, MWC has information on trips to the Continent that even the most budget-minded girls can afford.

Under the auspices of the National Student Association, the Educational-Travel, Incorporated has planned European tour programs designed exclusively for students.

The National Student Association is a non-profit making, non-sectarian, non-political organization based upon the principles of maintaining academic freedom, stimulating democratic student governments, developing educational pursuits, and promoting international understanding. Educational-Travel, Incorporated is concerned with the latter principle.

Because NSA is a student organization and is affiliated with student unions in the foreign countries, ETI is able to obtain foreign students as guides, and make available student rates for theaters and festivals. In the same way, the itinerary in each country is planned by a group of students in that country.

ETI offers two types of tour programs, the general interest tours and the special interest tours. The general interest plan covers from three to eight countries. The student gets a chance to view many phases of the country's life: its art, music, its industrial scheme, the economic conditions of the country.

On the other hand, the special interest tours are designed for people concerned with a particular subject or country. For example, the Festival of Music and Art program gives the student an opportunity to attend all of the major festivals in Europe. The Israel program provides an opportunity to view the conditions and development of this particular country.

Perhaps MWC students would be especially interested in three of Educational-Travel Incorporated's programs: the Hobo tour, the Volkswagen tour, and the Red Carpet tour. The Hobo tour is the most economical trip, a motor-coach tour of Europe—80 days for $80 dollars. The Volkswagen tour enables the student to drive through Europe without the worries of travel arrangements—72 days for $99 dollars. This includes the rental of the Volkswagen. The Deluxe Tour is designed for the student who wants to see Europe in grand style—78 days for $1,450 dollars. The Red Carpet tour includes first class reservations in everything.

The advantages of the NSA tours may be summed up briefly. First, the low cost of the tours is definitely of interest to most economically-minded college girls. Because student ships are used, the student has access to an excellent orientation program plus the chance to meet many other students from colleges and universities all over the United States. There are no chaperones.

The tours are arranged so that the student gets a detailed view of each country. Parties are arranged with the foreign students and American students also have many other opportunities to become acquainted with the people and their way of life.

Also, the tours are limited to twenty-five to thirty people per group, and they are arranged to give the traveler plenty of free time.

Last Monday night, February 23, Miss Michaela Golden, the assistant to the director of ETI, talked to a group of MWC girls interested in obtaining tour information. Any student desiring information may obtain it through Pat Garvin, chairman of MWC's NSA committee.

Also available from NSA is a booklet compiling travel material which includes various tour, work, and study programs in European and other foreign countries, and scholarship information.

Last summer three MWC students, Barbara Bache, Mary Massey, and Carol Seaward traveled to Europe under a NSA plan. This summer eleven MWC students will take one of the tours.

Drama Department To Present Comedy

Sandra Quarles and Marilyn Smith will play the lead roles in The Tender Trap, which the Mary Washington Players will present March 5, 6, 7.

The play, a three-act comedy by Max Shulman and Robert Paul Smith, is a story of the amorous activities of a New York man-about-town and the girls who wish to put an end to his bachelorhood.

The cast is as follows: Julie, Sandra Quarles; Sylvia, Marilyn Smith; Charlie, Bernard Cockrell; Poppy, Timmie Pierce; Joe, Charles Masden. Understudies are Renee Levinson, Corinne Allison, Polly Updegraff and Penny Mason.

Mark Sumner will serve as Director, Nancy Sturtevant is Student Director, and Kay Rowe, Stage Manager.

Faculty Sponsors Show In Fine Arts Galleries

An art faculty show featuring work of several professors will be held from March 12-25 and again from April 1-11 in the Fine Arts galleries in duPont.

Prints by Mrs. Edgar Van Winkle, ceramics by Miss Joan Orloff, sculptures by Gaetano Cecere, and paintings by Julian Binford will be shown.

cussion among the students rises from the general belief that part of the money labeled "student activities fee" paid by each student each year, has in the past, been allotted to "Y". If any of this money is to be given to any student, religious group, it seems apparent that it should go to Inter-faith, which is certainly more truly representative of all students.

Electing Presidents

It is interesting to note, that as a religious organization, "Y" sends a representative to Inter-Faith Council. This is almost an implicit admission on the part of "Y" itself that it should be subordinate to Inter-faith. Does it not then seem more appropriate for the student body to elect an Inter-faith president rather than a "Y" president?

"Y" has a definite place on the campus and should be highly commended on the work it has done. However since "Y" represents just a fraction of the student body, it seems to be generally felt that many of the present responsibilities of "Y" should be in the hands of Inter-faith group.

Many Emphasize Various Interpretations In Comparing Importance of Inter-faith, Y services held here on campus.

The Thanksgiving and Christmas vesper programs could be extended to reach every faith. Thanksgiving, certainly, is everyone's holiday. Christmas too belongs to each of us, in a certain way. For the Christian girls on campus, it is a most beautiful and holy time. For the Jewish girls, this season brings the very significant and holy Festival of Lights, Hanukkah. We live and work here side by side, why not worship side by side?

Renee Levinson, '60

I feel the influence of the Y.W.C.A. on campus activities should not be reduced but rather expanded only if it meets the demands of everyone. The "Y" is an interdenominational group designed to enrich each student's religious life. However, some say that a happy medium should be reached as far as its emphasis is concerned. For example, there are more Protestants here on campus, and as a result, more attention is given to Protestant activities than to the activities of the other faiths.

Of course it must be remembered that the "Y" has always intended to help every student discover her own religious faith, through such programs as Religious Emphasis Week, which it sponsors and supports. An organization such as the Y.W.C.A. must never cease to strive for higher goals or must never be satisfied to rest on the laurels of the past, and if this means influencing campus activities then it is a profitable idea to do so.

Carole Grant, '61

Inter-faith Council and not YWCA should be in charge of Religious Emphasis Week; moreover, Y has no more right than any other religious group to be on Student Government as an ex-officio member.

I cannot see how YWCA is more representative of the student body than is Inter-faith. On the contrary, it is Inter-faith which should sponsor whatever interdenominational activities are planned. Until Inter-faith or some group like it is given free rein to direct religious activities there will never be much interest in the projects of an unrepresentative body.

Betty Desmond, '59

YWCA plays entirely too great a part on this campus. As I have heard many students say, "Why does Y claim to represent the student body when so few students actively support it or are members?" I don't know the reason anymore than they do.

However, I do know that from the very structure of Inter-faith that it is a group which could represent all segments of the student body. Personally, I don't believe that any religious group, Y or Inter-faith, should have an ex-officio office on SGA, but if any group does, it should be the one group capable of representing the greatest number of students.

Inter-faith certainly doesn't have the money or the experience in organizing religious functions that Y has had. Nevertheless, that is no indication that Inter-faith could not do as well a job as Y given all necessary support, financial and otherwise.

UVa. Receives Monetary Gift To Purchase More Equipment

The University of Virginia has recently received a grant from the Atomic Energy Commission for $97,905. The purpose of this grant is to purchase equipment to be used in the research and teaching program that is now being set up.

The Virginia Military Institute recently received a gift of $15,000 from the Virginia Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association, Inc. for the purpose of establishing a scholarship fund in electrical engineering.

It was "... created to encourage and support the study of electrical engineering ... The fund will provide an annual scholarship of $600 to a cadet majoring in electrical engineering and will be awarded to a graduate of an accredited Virginia high or preparatory school on the basis of need and intellectual promise."

Plans are now underway for a new Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity house at U. Va. Ground will be broken for the new $100,000 house, which is to be built on 17th Street and Grady Avenue, about July 1, 1959 and it is hoped the house will be ready by February 1, 1960.

The house, a contemporary brick construction, will feature a living room, chapter room, library, dining room, kitchen, 12 double bedrooms and a party room containing a stage-band-stand. An outdoor terrace and a barbecue fireplace also have been planned.

The Cavalier Daily of U. Va. gave a very clever description of the nebbish, which was the theme of Mid-Winters last week-end: "This ambiguous, ubiquitous and rather unorganized creature has recently become a national symbol." The nebbish was seen first in cartoons captioned, "Next week we'll have to get organized." The week-end was not only well-organized, especially the two bands featured, Lionel Hampton and Richard Maltby, but also a tremendous success.

Alpha Phi Sigma Meets

Pins were given to the twenty-eight new members, and they were welcomed into the fraternity.

Other business included raising the average standing necessary for membership from a 2.3 to a 2.5 average for two consecutive semesters.

Another large student promoted and student aided project is the World University Service Drive. To insure a more stable educational program for students around the world, this drive seeks to send funds to those areas in greatest need. The entire campus works toward an awareness of others' problems each year in the hope that our contribution will alleviate in some respect the poor conditions in foreign countries.

Through the efforts of the Religious Center Committee, a group of students representing every religious creed on campus, a beginning has been made by helping various individual groups find an adequate place for their meetings. However, the primary aim of this group is the eventual establishment of some kind of religious center or chapel to meet more specifically the needs of the student body.

Insofar as RE Week is concerned, the YWCA is the only religious association on campus which is thoroughly equipped at present to deal with the difficult and varied aspects of this program. Inter-Faith has, until this year, been relatively inactive and unable to embark upon the larger responsibility of preparing and carrying through the diversity of projects for RE Week.

However, taken as a whole, the "Y" is catholic in its concept of service to the entire campus. It endeavors to meet the needs of as many girls as possible, while at the same time adheres to its avowed religious purpose. Constructive activities and projects are planned to utilize the energies and abilities of the student body and to direct each girl toward a more purposeful and sincere life both here at Mary Washington and in later years.

Nobody much but a friar named Bacon who was also a 12th century philosopher, and Oliver Cromwell were around.

V. The 18th Century

Known as the Age of Popes and Neo-Classicism because Greece and Rome had recently been discovered. People wrote odes and telegrams and that sort of thing.

Emphasis Week should be the domain of Inter-Faith Council. This is its claim. But Inter-Faith does not receive an allotment from the college for, unlike S. G. A. or "Y", it is not primarily a service group but a coordinating council whose stated purposes do not specifically mention service. And only service groups receive these funds. If and when Inter-Faith finds itself equipped financially and organizationally to sponsor such a project, then resentment toward "Y" will seem more valid. In sponsoring R. E. Week Inter-faith would probably find that more criticism than credit is involved.

And credit seems to be an unspoken factor. For what other reason would a council resent a service organization? Worse still, why voice this resentment when Inter-faith is at present unable, financially and organizationally, to assume certain functions which "Y" is fulfilling?

There is no reason why "Y" and other organizations on campus cannot live together in a cooperative manner. Each has its purpose and each has its own way of fulfilling this purpose.

THINKLISH

English: SCANDAL MAGAZINE

Thinklish translation: This magazine is put out by a bunch of troublemakers. Their other monthly offerings: a horror series (feariodical), pin-up pictures (leeriodical) and a fortune tellers' gazette (seeriodical). Naturally, none carries ads mentioning the honest taste of fine tobacco. Who'd want Lucky Strike mixing with that crowd? As for the scandal sheet, it's a smeariodical which deserves nothing but snublicity.
